The Great Invention of the Age!
Steam Supplanted:—Gas Triumphant!!
The first half of the nineteenth century will be recorded as the age of Steam. It has passed, and with it will pass the steam engine with the things that were.
The second half of the contury will be known as commencing the age of Gas—an agent destined not only to light but to extensive the world. The age has now commenced, and with it is now introduced the Gas Engine.
Professor John C. F. Salomon, after twentywis years of close observation upon the experiments of his own and of others in attempts to make the principle of the condensation of carbonic acid gas available as a mechanic motor, has perfected the same; and, having just received letters patent for his "Improved Carbonic Acid Engine," now offers to dispose of rights for the use thereof to the United States government, and to individuals or to companies the rights of States, counties, or cities.

The lummonse saving of money and labor, and of human iense saving of money and labor, and of human

The immense saving of money and laber, and of human lives and suffering, secured by the use of this new motor, will inevitably insure its speedy adoption in all places where steam power is now used, and in thousands of other-places where the great expense, bulk, and weight of the steam engine has precluded its use.

This new motor may be applied to all purposes as a propelling agent, from the single-horse power for the cotton-gin to the two thousand horse power for ocean steamers, with the expense less than that required by the steam engine, of boilers and furnaces, fuel and firemen, and of bulk and weight—100 tons weight sufficing for the same power of 1,000 tons of the steam engine.

weight—100 tons weight suncing for the same power of 1,000 tons of the steam engine.

These facts are established by the experimental engine of eventy-five (25) horse power, now "working well" at Cincinnati, as noticed in the following from the Cincinnati Nonpareil," of the 18th instant:

"We are pleased to state that J. C. P. Salomon, late of this title has received.

"We are pleased to state that J. C. F. Salomon, late of this city, has received a patent for his motor of carbonic acid gas, in its application to an engine. The successful experiments of this invention were not long since given in the "Nonparell." The same gentleman has received another patent for the steering and propelling power."

Also, rights for the use of his "Improved Propelling and

Also, rights for the use of his "Improved Propelling and Steering Apparatus," one psculiar advantage of which gives the pilot such complete control of the vessel, independent of the engineer, that he can "right-about-face" a man-of-war in less time than is required to load her guns.

Also, rights for his "Improved Spring Saddle," for military and common purposes, designed for the greatest possible comfort of both horse and rider.

Any information in regard to the above invaluable inventions, and of obtaining rights, &c., may be promptly obtained by addressing D. L. ELDE'R.

Letter from Mr. Royse, of New Albany, Indiana, inventor of a Rotary Plough.

Washington, January 30, 1852.

Mr. Elder—Sir: I cheerfully avail myself of this opportu-nity to give you a few brief statements in reference to Pro-fessor Salomon's New Mechanical Motor, as it is your request, as well as a duty I owe my country. The facts are the fol-lowing, as near as I now recollect:

as well as a duty I owe my country. The facts are the following, as near as I now recollect:
I arrived at Cincinnation the 8th of October. 1851, and on the following day I called to see Professor Salomon's New Mechanical Motor, of which I had read accounts in the public papers. I was desirous to see the engine, from the fact that I had for some time previous been studying to make the same principle applicable as a motive power to machinery. I was astonished and delighted in witnessing the construction and operation of the engine. I saw my embodied idea before me more perfect than I had conceived.

I witnessed the operation for near an hour. It was uniform and perfect, and of sufficient power to lift a weight of 12,000 lbs. twenty-five times in a minute. This power was applied to turn the machinery of the shop, and appeared to equal to steam-engines commonly used in machine-shops.

o equal to steam-engines commonly used in machine-shor the whole length of this engine is about twelve or fifteen fe-and I soppose its weight might be about five or six tons. and I soppose its weight might be about five or six tons. The furnace is a small sheet-iron pun, the size of my hat, and held about z double-handful of charcoal. The machinury is not more complicated than that of the steam-engine, the principle of construction and operation being the same. This was estimated to be a twenty-five horse-power engine, or which I have given you a brief description.

I am not pecuniarily interested in the success of the invention. I never expected to be called upon to make any statements in reference to it. I have had no previous acquaintance with Professor Saiomon, and never saw him, to any knowledge, until I met him in this city, on yesterday. Yours, respectfully, P. E. ROYSE.

THE subscriber offers for sale his Farm, situated A about five miles from Washington, D. C., in Prince George's county, Md. It contains 1784 acres, more than 30 of which is a fine alluvial meadow, producing a ton and a half of hay to the acre, but which un-der improved cultivation would produce at least two tons. Hay sells in the Washington market at from $14 to $20 per ton. About four acres of the place is a marsh, covered with several feet in thickness of black earth, the result of decayed vegetation, which, properly composted, is a source from which the upland may be enriched at a reasonable cost. About 60 acres of the farm is woodland—growth principally oak and chestnut. The land, except the meadow, is one and enesting. The land, except the meadow, in undulating, and affords many beautiful sites for building. There are many springs of excellent water on the place, and it is noted for its healthfulness. The soil of the greater part of the upland is a sandy loam, underlaid by clay—in some places, clay predominating. About 75 acres could be divided into small gardening farms, giving nearly an equal quantity of wood and arable land to each. There is an orchard of 150 peach trees and 60 apple trees on the place, all bearing; also, about two hundred apple trees, ready for grafting. It is well fenced. The buildings are —a log house of four rooms, with a frame addition of three rooms, a meat-house of sun-dried brick, a log ki tchen separate from the dwelling, a corn-house, stable, carriage-house, &c. There is a stream of water ranning through the place, with sufficient water and fall for a small mill. Price, $40 per aere. Terms—one-third cash: a long credit for the residue, if desired; or, it would be explaned for real estate in the city of would be exchanged for real estate in the city of Washington. MARTIN BUELL,

A Week Later from Europe. The steamer Niagara arrived at Haiffax yesterday with Liverpool dates of the 6th instant. At Liverpool cotton had been in active demand luring the week preceding her departure, at an advance of one-eighth of a penny, with sales of nearly 80,000 bales. The quotations are as follows:

Fair Orleans 5ad, Middling do. 5 8-16d., fair Mobile and Upland 5ad., Middling Mobile 5ad., Middling Upland 5 1-16d.

Breadstuffs were quiet; corn in limited de-mand, and flour declining in price. The money market very easy. The builion in the Bank of England had increased to £19,239,000.

The Anti-corn Law League was being revived. At Manchester a subscription of £40,000 was going forward for the agitation of the question, and the re-election of the new Ministers, whose seats had become vacant. Sir John Packingham, Lord John Manners, and Lord Henry Lennox had been returned. The speeches of these gentlemen on the free-trade question were very cautious, throwing the subject for the present overboard, and looking forward to the next general elections. The new Chancellor Suguen had taken his seat in the House of Lords as Baron St. Leonards.

HACKETT, the comedian, is in Paris, and is about introducing a series of representations with an English and American company from
